Hi [REDACTED],

It feels super awkward to reach out to you this way, since we haven't really talked in a couple of years, and I don't actually know if you and I are okay.

Franklin has implied that I had hurt or upset you in some way, though he was vague on the specifics. All I know apart from that is that I wasn't invited to your wedding. If there's something I've done to hurt you, I'm sorry. If there's something I can do to make it up to you or change whatever behaviour was upsetting to you, I'd be grateful for an opportunity to know what that is, if that's something you're willing to offer.

The other thing I wanted to ask is if you'd be willing to talk to me confidentially about something happening with Franklin. It would be really helpful to me if I could talk to someone who has been a nesting partner of his. I also understand if that would be awkward and you need to say no.

Whatever you want, I wish you and [REDACTED] the best.

Eve
